

Connecticut Fair Housing Center Confidentiality Agreement

1. As part of my Educ 308: Cities Suburbs Schools course (Fall 2012) at Trinity College I will be reviewing documents that are the property of the Connecticut Fair Housing Center.
2. For the purposes of this project, I will be acting as an intern of the Connecticut Fair Housing Center.
3. I recognize that the documents I review might be used in litigation and must be kept confidential in order to retain the protections of the Attorney-Client Privilege, Attorney Work Product Doctrine, and the confidentiality of the Connecticut Fair Housing Center's testing. Most of the personally identifiable information about testers and properties tested will be redacted, but to the extent any identifying information is inadvertently revealed, I will not share that information with anyone.
4. Any assignments that I submit for this class will exclude any information that could be used to identify the tester or the location of the test site.
5. My analysis of the data will not be shared beyond my class, and will not be made public or posted on a website, without the written permission of the Connecticut Fair Housing Center.

I understand and agree to the conditions above.
