Graham Alling Day, 1934
In 1934, Day earned his B.A. in English from Trinity, where he was a member of Sigma Nu. He managed the Meriden, Bridgeport, and New Haven offices of Personal Finance Company and then joined the Federal Bureau of Investigation, where he served for more than 30 years, supervising liaisons between the FBI and other agencies as well as FBI liaison representatives abroad. He retired in 1973.
He and wife Katherine were married in 1940. His brother, Donald J. Day, was a member of Trinity’s Class of 1941.

George D.W. Ferris, Sr., 1934
Following his graduation from Trinity and from the Connecticut College of Pharmaceuticals, Ferris worked as a pharmacist at English Drug in Bethel, Connecticut, for 23 years and then part time at Georgetown Pharmacy until his 1986 retirement.
Ferris is survived by his sons, George D.W. Ferris II (Elizabeth Marsan-Ferris) and Robert K. Ferris 72 (Kathryn Gates-Ferris); six grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by his wife, Phebe; an infant son, John Booth Ferris; three brothers, Charles, Donald, and William Ferris; and three sisters, Florence Atkins, Booth Ferris; three brothers, Charles, Donald, and William Ferris; and three sisters, Florence Atkins, Sarah Banks Metcalfe, and Louise Blakeham.

Paul Joseph Bilka, 1940
Paul Joseph Bilka, 94, of Excelsior, Minnesota, died on October 30, 2013.
Bilka graduated from Trinity with a B.S. in biology and went on to the Columbia University School of Medicine, graduating in 1943. After serving in the Army Medical Corps during World War II and doing his residency training at Hartford Hospital and the Mayo Clinic, Bilka opened the first rheumatology practice in Minneapolis, Minnesota. He was a founding member of the National Society of Clinical Rheumatologists and was recognized as a master of the American College of Rheumatology in 1992.
In addition to his private practice, Bilka worked as a clinical professor of medicine at the University of Minnesota Arthritis Clinic and as a consultant at the Minneapolis VA Medical Center. He and his wife, Madge, were lifelong philanthropists who established endowed funds and scholarships at Trinity College, Carleton College, Case Western School of Nursing, Columbia University School of Physicians and Surgeons, the Mayo Clinic, and the Abbott Northwestern Hospital Medicine Clinic Department of Medical Education. In 2000, Trinity presented him with the Alumni Medal for Excellence.
Bilka was predeceased by his wife and a sister.

John Franklin Hazen, Jr., 1940
John Franklin Hazen, Jr., 95, of Nashville, Tennessee, died on November 24, 2013.
Hazen majored in English at Trinity, where he also took part in choir and the Glee Club Hazen commanded a fleet of five amphibious landing ships during World War II. He later worked in the insurance industry in Nashville for many years. He started running for fitness in his 50s and became an elite endurance athlete. As a triathlete, he won a national championship and placed third in the world championships in 1990.
Hazen is survived by his daughter Barbara Dorn (Karen Aguero); sons John F. Hazen (Dawn), David C. Hazen (Donna), and Raymond C. Hazen (Susan); grandchildren John Myers (Amy), Molly Myers, Taylor Prescott, Alsha Hazen, Andrew Hazen, Jesse Hazen, Amelia Hazen, Katy (Brent) Turney, Dan Seidman (Katie), Alan Seidman, and Lillian Hazen; and great-grandchildren Jacob Seidman and Jacob, Bradley, Amanda, and Ava Myers. He was predeceased by his brother, Charles Hazen, and his wife of 57 years, Anne Turrentine Hazen.

John Randolph “Jack” Barber, 1942
John Randolph “Jack” Barber, 92, of Lacey, Washington, died on January 8, 2014.
At Trinity, Barber majored in philosophy and English and was a member of Sigma Nu. He also was active in the Glee Club, Chapel Choir, and The Trinity Tripod. After Trinity, he spent five years in active service to his country in World War II and Korea. He spent 34 years with Travelers Insurance before beginning a second career as a travel agent in 1980. After retiring, he served his community as a volunteer, with a particular focus on emergency preparedness.
In 1992, Barber was awarded the Outstanding Class Secretary Award for his exemplary contributions to The Trinity Reporter. In addition to submitting Class Notes from his home 3,000 miles from Summit Street, Barber in 1997 filed an account of his unexpected reunion with a classmate aboard a cruise ship in the South Pacific.
Barber counted several family members among his fellow Bantams, including his father, William Barber ‘51; uncle, Harmon Barber ‘18; brother, Jim Barber ‘51; and cousin, Tom Barber ‘53. He was predeceased by his wife, Ruth, in 2013.

Albert Archer Grover, 1946
Albert Archer Grover, 92, of Madison, Wisconsin, died on September 16, 2013.
After graduating from Trinity in 1945, Grover earned his M.S. at the University of Michigan. After devoting his education and career to research and education in the field of medical microbiology, he retired from the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine in 1990.
Grover is survived by his wife, Jeanne; children Maureen Bula (Ron), Paul Grover (Janeen), Claudia Lease (Jan), and Shawn Grover (Sally Martin); and grandchildren Patrick Bula, Justine Bula, Shannon Grover, Mackenzie Grover, Brad Lease, Katie Lease, and Jessica Grover.

Robert Burton “Bob” Jennings, 1947
At Trinity, Jennings was a member of Alpha Chi Rho. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. He spent most of his career in the carpet industry, ultimately serving as president and CEO of Bigelow-Sanford. Following his retirement in 1972, he became president and CEO of Reifenhauser-NABCO, where he served until 1983. He was a Rotarian and a member of several boards of directors.
Jennings is survived by his wife of 66 years, Shirley, whom he married in the Trinity College Chapel; sons Robert (Peneelope), Jeffrey, Chris (Pamela), and Peter (Krista); nine grandchildren; Josh (Aja), Tyler, Ehren (David), Margaret, Katherine, Megan, Sara (Ryan), William, and Kelley; and two great-grandchildren, Miette and Atlas.

William R. Pierre, 1947
William R. Pierre, 89, of Dallas, Texas, died on August 24, 2011.
Pierre served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. Following his graduation from Trinity, where he was a member of Alpha Chi Rho, he went on to work in chemical sales. He spent the last 20 years of his career working for Ribelin Distributors. Upon his retirement, he volunteered with Meals on Wheels for two decades. He was also a member of St. Monica Catholic Church for more than 40 years.
Pierre is survived by his wife of 60 years, Helen Ann Wehrmann Pierre; daughters Pam Myers (Bob) and Sally (then-fiancé Donny Mushet); sons Mike (Judi) and Jack (then-fiancée Karen Casey); grandchildren Casey and Matthew Hanna and Melissa and Robby Myers; and sister Gerry (Dick Scheide). He was predeceased by his brother, Robert.

William Wesley Jackson, 1948
Jackson was born in Purley, England, and was a member of Sigma Nu at Trinity. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II and the Korean Conflict.
He is survived by sons Tom Jackson and Clay Jackson (Sheree); daughters Deborah Hagan and Tracy Adamowicz (Mike); and grandchildren John, Ryan, and Martha Jackson. He was also survived by his wife, Joan, whose following passed his in November 2009.

The Reverend Frederic John Teichmann, 1949
The Reverend Frederic John Teichmann, 86, of Bedford, New Hampshire, died on December 10, 2013.
While at Trinity, where he majored in philosophy, Teichmann took part in Glee Club, ran track and cross country, and served as manager of the basketball team. He went on to attend the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia, where he received his master of divinity degree.
Teichmann started Lutheran churches in Littleton, New Hampshire, and Greece, New York. He then served as the pastor at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church in New Hyde Park, New York, for 30 years. He also was president of the Nassau County Council of Churches. He served Pinecrest Lutheran Ministries for more than 25 years as assistant director and director. Following his retirement in 1992, Teichmann served as interim or substitute pastor for several churches.
Teichmann is survived by his wife of 69 years, Shirley, whom he married in the Trinity College Chapel; sons Robert (Peneelope), Jeffrey, Chris (Pamela), and Peter (Krista); nine grandchildren; Josh (Aja), Tyler, Ehren (David), Margaret, Katherine, Megan, Sara (Ryan), William, and Kelley; and two great-grandchildren, Miette and Atlas.
In Memory

Claire; sons Peter W. Teichmann (Diante), Timothy J. Teichmann (Christine), the Reverend Thomas E. Teichmann (Lisa), and Jeffrey J. Teichmann (Lois); eight grandchildren and their spouses: Jonathan and Caroline, Erik and Sarah, Matthew, Marc and Kerry, Brianne, Amy, Daniel, and Jeremy; sister Ruth Annunziato; brother David Teichmann (Thelma); two nieces; five nephews; and one great-grandchild.

Arthur Felix Roche, Jr., 1951

Arthur Felix Roche, Jr., 85, of Longwood, Florida, died on January 3, 2014.

Following his graduation from Trinity and time in the U.S. Army, Roche was employed by Aetna. After his retirement, he continued to work as a financial consultant. Roche was a member of the Winter Park Rotary Club and a past commander of the Seminole Power Squadron.

Roche is survived by his four children: Gary Roche (Susanna), Jeffery Roche, Ellen Jane Annis (Jeff), and Arthur F. Roche III (Elizabeth); a sister, Mary Alice Roche; nine grandchildren; Kenneth Roche, Sharron Roche Rosen, Samantha Roche, Verónica Roche, William Roche, Jeffrey Annis, Mr. Margaret Annis, Arthur Roche IV, and John Roche; and one great-grandson, Shaun Rosen. He was predeceased by his wife of 52 years, Ellen O’Flaherty Roche, in 2004.

Clifford DeWitt Stark, 1951

While at Trinity, Stark, a U.S. Navy veteran, studied economics, pledged Theta Xi, and played soccer. He went on to play semiprofessional soccer in Connecticut. New York, and Ohio. Stark was an account analyst at GE before owning a specialty food brokerage business known as M.A.R. Associates. Upon his retirement, Stark briefly coached a college soccer team.

He was a member of the Woodstock Lions Club, the Corner Stone-Quinebaug Masonic Lodge, the Shriners, and the Benson-Flugel Club, the Corner Stone-Quinebaug Masonic Lodge, the Shriner’s Club, the Benson-Flugel Masonic Club, the Corner Stone-Quinebaug Masonic Lodge, the Shriners, and the Benson-Flugel Club.

Stark is survived by his wife, Beverly; sons Clifford DeWitt Stark II, William (Sandra) Stark, and Arthur Felix Roche Jr.; and two nieces; and one great-grandson, Shaun Rosen. He was predeceased by his wife of 56 years, Miller is survived by son George Miller (Jennifer); daughters Sarah Nanni (Tony) and Sandra Miller; grandchildren Hannah, Georgia, Anthony, Chloe, Jake, Chris, Janelle, Kenneth, and Corey (Angela); great-grandchildren Dylan, Amanda, Lily, and Owen; and many nieces, nephews, and cousins. He was predeceased by a son, Robert J. Miller, and a brother, William Miller.

Thomas Russell Ainsworth, 1954

Thomas Russell Ainsworth, 79, of Ballwin, Missouri, died on November 15, 2012.

While at Trinity, Ainsworth was a member of Theta Xi, the Political Science Club, the Young Republican Club, and the Foreign Policy Association and was on the staff of The Trinity Tripod. He then spent 28 years as a journalist with the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. He was a member of the Masons and the Tall Cedars of Lebanon.

Ainsworth is survived by his wife, Delilah Dee Ainsworth; daughters Alison Thiemann (Brian) and Adrienne Pivac (Matthew); 11 grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

Thomas H. Lapham, 1955

Thomas H. Lapham, 81, of Queensbury, New York, died on December 5, 2013.

Lapham was a veteran of the U.S. Army and graduated with a degree in history from Trinity, where he was president of Alpha Delta Phi. Following the course of his career, he was employed by The Hartford Insurance Company, Finch & Pruny, and the Warren County Department of Social Services and Adult Protective Services, from which he retired after 29 years. He served on several boards, including those of Finch & Pruny, the Hyde Museum, and the Glen Falls Hospital Foundation. Lapham is survived by his son, Thomas H. Lapham, Jr. (Heather); grandchildren Jesse and John Thomas Lapham; daughter Laurie Carpenter (Robert); grandchildren Brittany and Kendra Carpenter; and brother Byron Lapham and family. He was predeceased by his first wife, Jean, and his second wife, Gloria.

Edward Joseph Daley, Jr., 1956

Edward Joseph Daley, Jr., 78, of Chatham, Massachusetts, died on September 12, 2012.

Daley majored in economics and was a member of Alpha Chi Rho at Trinity, where the faculty elected him to the Pi Gamma Mu National Social Studies Honor Society. Following his graduation, he took business courses at New York University and later returned to Trinity as a guest lecturer.

After six years working at Vick Chemical Company, Daley served in the U.S. Army for two years. In 1959, he was honorably discharged and returned to Vick in the merchandising and advertising departments. In 1963, he joined the Madison Avenue advertising agency Young & Rubicam, where he worked for 30 years. During the course of his career, he was nominated for and received numerous awards, including the Effie Award for his work with the Jamaica Tourism Board.

Daley is survived by his wife, Patricia, sons William (Camilla), Sean (Nina), and Kevin (Katie); daughters Kathleen (William), Leslie (Daniel), and Allyson; 17 grandchildren; Matthew, Siobhan, Briana, Carlin, Sean, Dominic, Joseph D., Maximilian, Emily, Zechariah, Joseph C., Isabella, Declan, Alexandra, Solanus, Madyson, and Mikayla; brothers William (Barbara) and Robert (Guyla); and many nieces and nephews.

Kenneth Walter Swanson, 1956

At Trinity, Swanson was an All-American soccer player, a history major, and a member of Sigma Nu and ROTC. Following his graduation, he served as a first lieutenant navigator with the U.S. Air Force. More than 50 years ago, Swanson and his father founded Swanson Tool Manufacturing in West Hartford. He was also involved in many church, business, and community organizations.

Swanson is survived by his wife of 57 years, Ann Louise; children Lisa Delano (Joe), Kenneth Swanson, Jr. (Patty), and Linnea Fields (Jim); eight grandchildren: Maria, Victoria, and Christina Delano; Shane and Molly Swanson; and Eric, Matthew, and Birgitta Fields; brothers Robert and David; sister Donna Evans; and sister-in-law Doris Sisley. He was predeceased by sister Norma Hunt.

William Lee “Bill” Stout, 1957

William Lee “Bill” Stout, 79, of Rumson, New Jersey, died on November 9, 2013.

Stout studied economics at Trinity and was a member of Alpha Delta Phi. He also served on the Inter-Dormitory Council and played both football and lacrosse. After Trinity, he went on to a career as a stockbroker, retiring from A.C. Partners in 2001.

Stout is survived by his wife, Lani; sons William “Paul” Stout (Christine), Jack W. Reilly III (Amy), and James Reilly (Karen); daughter Laura Stout; sisters Judith Stout, Mary Lawrence, Nicky Chapin, and Hope Connors; and his eight grandchildren: Anthony, Sarah, Julia, J W, Anabelle, Caroline, Will, and Megan.

David William Hasson, 1958

At Trinity, Hasson majored in psychology and history and was a member of Theta Xi. He went on to graduate from the University of Connecticut School of Law. He served as a seaman in the U.S. Coast Guard and as a special agent in the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He then spent much of his career in the counsel’s office at Pratt & Whitney. At St. Mary Parish in Newington, he taught CCD and served as a lector. He was also a founding member of Catholics United for the Faith in Hartford.

When he retired to Bald Head Island, North Carolina, he served as a volunteer firefighter and as a member of the island government. He climbed many of the highest peaks in North and South America, and, in 1990, climbed to within 4,000 feet of the peak of Mount Everest.

Hasson is survived by four sons: Christopher (Venera), Douglas (Anna), Gregory (Gail), and Stuart (Deidre); and eight grandchildren: Jacob, Gabrielle, Luke, Oliver, Madeline, Aiden, Wyatt, and Wallis. He was predeceased by his brother, Francis Hasson.

Stephen Marlow Kravette, 1958

Stephen Marlow Kravette, 76, of Tucson, Arizona, died on February 18, 2013.

Kravette graduated with his B.A. in English while at Trinity. He was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha. He also started the Dixieland Jazz Band (Summit Street Six) and wrote and produced an original musical with several classmates. In the years since Trinity, he worked as a professional writer, naturopathic doctor, Reiki healer, astrologer, and performing musician.

Kravette is survived by his wife, Valerie Fuchs Kravette; sister Ellyn Kravette; daughter Amanda Burton; sons Randolph and Sanford Kravette; eight grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

The Reverend Frank Kincaid Jago, 1960

The Reverend Frank Kincaid Jago, 76, of Lumberton, New Jersey, died on January 8, 2014. At Trinity, Jago was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha and took part in the band and the bags-pipes band. Following his graduation, he earned his M.Div. from Trinity Divinity School and his D.Min. from Drew University. After his 1963 ordination, Jago was vicar and later rector of St. Barnabas Episcopal Church in Monmouth Junction, New Jersey, and rector of St. Andrew’s Episcopal Church in Mount Holly, New Jersey. He retired in 1997 and served as priest-in-charge at Trinity Episcopal Church in Delran, New Jersey, from 1999 until his death.

He was president of the Mount Holly Rotary Club and the Mount Holly Historical Society, and he was chaplain of the New Jersey State Fireman’s Association, the Mount Holly and Lumberton fire departments, Burlington County Emergency Services, the Burlington County Municipal Employees Association, the Kendall Park Volunteer Fire Company, the Kendall Park First Aid Squad, and the South Brunswick and Mount Holly police departments.

Jago is survived by his four children: Frank, Jr. (Ruth Ann), David (Kimberly), Vanessa Meredith (Joseph), and Jennifer Kelly (Thomas); grandsons Ryan Engle and Andrew Jago; and granddaughters Lauren, Amanda, Sophie, and Emma Jago. He was predeceased by his wife, Marjorie McCoy.

James Coates Goodridge, 1963

James Coates Goodridge, 72, of West Hartford, Connecticut, died on November 22, 2013.

Goodridge majored in history at Trinity, where he was a member of Delta Phi, the Glee Club, and the Political Science Club. He then enlisted in the U.S. Navy. He saw combat in the Vietnam War and, after his honorable discharge, became a certified financial analyst. He earned his M.B.A. from Columbia Business School. Throughout his career, Goodridge worked at Connecticut General Life Insurance, U.S. Synfuels, and United Technologies. He later ran his own financial advisory firm, Goodridge Investment Consulting Company. He was a member of several boards, including those of the Trinity Club of Hartford, The 1892 Club, and the Cedar Hill Cemetery and Foundation.

Goodridge is survived by children Christopher, Timothy, and Elisabeth; daughters-in-law Tracy and Jena; son-in-law Ben; grandchildren Jonathan, Emily, Zachary, Marshall, and Samuel; brothers William, George, and Ed; sister Elizabeth Westgard; sisters-in-law Sheryl, Jane, and Betsy Rushong; brothers-in-law James Westgard and Ben Rushong, and many nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by his wife of 45 years, Louise “Lucy” Lloyd Goodridge.

Stephen M. Parks, 1966

Stephen M. Parks, 69, of Taos, New Mexico, died on August 31, 2013. Parks studied English at Trinity, where his activities included being a member of St. Anthony Hall and the Jesters and serving as literary editor of the Ivy. During his junior year, he discovered a lifelong love of theater when he joined the cast of Gilbert & Sullivan’s H.M.S. Pinafore. His time at Trinity marked the beginning of a long career in the arts, including as an art advocate, an actor, and a writer. In 1980, he founded ARTtimes, the first publication to offer serious art criticism in northern New Mexico. He later moved to New York, where he worked as an actor in theater and commercials.

In 1993, he opened Parks Gallery in Taos, adding a second location in Santa Fe in 2001. He served as director of the Po’Pay Society, an organization that promotes Puebloan agriculture, and on the board of Working Class Theatre. Parks is survived by his wife, Joni Tickel; sons Dylan Parks (Liz) and William Grafton Parks; siblings Melissa Parks Carothers, Andrew Parks (Rosie), Matthew Parks (Leigh), and Jonathan Parks (Laura); granddaughters Lily and Josie; and numerous nieces and nephews.

Gerald Anthony Vastano, 1969

Gerald Anthony Vastano, 67, of West Hartford, Connecticut, died on February 2, 2014. Vastano followed his 1969 bachelor’s degree in history with a master’s degree in eastern religions at Columbia University. In 1984, he founded ARTtimes, the first publication to offer serious art criticism in northern New Mexico. He later moved to New York, where he worked as an actor in theater and commercials.

In 1993, he opened Parks Gallery in Taos, adding a second location in Santa Fe in 2001. He served as director of the Po’Pay Society, an organization that promotes Puebloan agriculture, and on the board of Working Class Theatre. Parks is survived by his wife, Joni Tickel; sons Dylan Parks (Liz) and William Grafton Parks; siblings Melissa Parks Carothers, Andrew Parks (Rosie), Matthew Parks (Leigh), and Jonathan Parks (Laura); granddaughters Lily and Josie; and numerous nieces and nephews.
In Memory

Vastano; brother Jeffrey Vastano; sister Donna Garms (Brian); and brother Robert. He was pre-deceased by son Jeffrey Vastano.

David Michael Sadayasu, 1970

David Michael Sadayasu, 63, of Arlington, Texas, died on May 6, 2012.

Sadayasu earned his B.A. and served in the U.S. Army before joining A&A Trading Company in New York in 1973. He transferred to Fort Worth in 1975 and began a career with Tandy Corporation/RadioShack that spanned nearly 40 years. While at Trinity, Sadayasu played freshman baseball and participated in Spanish Club for four years, serving as its president during his senior year.

Sadayasu is survived by Sue Fudenna and sons Keith, Dale, and Paul; Ken and Roger Masuda; Ricky and Michael Fukawa; Patti Nishimura; and his adopted family, Gary and Cathy Wash and children Nikiti, Lisa, and Derek.

Robert Paul Burton, Jr., 1971

Robert Paul Burton, Jr., 64, of Jefferson, Ohio, died on July 25, 2012.

At Trinity, Burton served as a reporter for The Trinity Tripod, participated in crew, and won the Trinity Alumni Prize in Prose Fiction. He also earned an associate’s degree from Kent State University and a master’s degree from the University of Maine. He went on to teach English at Grand River Academy for several years. He later worked for the Star Beacon newspaper in Ashtabula County, Ohio, and as a technical writer for RMI. He retired in 2011 from the Ashtabula County Medical Center, where he worked as a physical therapy assistant.

Burton is survived by his wife, Virginia; daughter Nicole Pekol; son David Kuhn (Brandy); sister Terence Nicole Pekol; son David Kuhn (Brandy); sister Stephanie Pekol; and nieces Caroline Birckhead and Emily Payne.

Amy Brown Boit, 1981

Amy Boit Boit, 51, of Wellesley, Massachusetts, died on October 12, 2011.

At Trinity, Boit earned a bachelor’s degree with honors in religion. She spent many years in the magazine industry, most notably with Inc. magazine. She recently worked in the development office at Fessenden School in Newton, Massachusetts. Boit was active in many charities, including the Wellesley Food Bank.

Boit is survived by her husband, Christopher; sons Andrew and Timothy; sister Elise Sillers; brother Jacob Brown III; parents Jacob, Jr. and Dianne Brown; and many nieces and nephews.

Margaret Hammond Lintelmann, IDP 1987

Margaret Hammond Lintelmann, 95, of Newington, Connecticut, died on December 25, 2018.

Lintelmann attended Oberlin College and, in 1938, graduated from the Hartford Hospital School of Nursing. In 1982, she arrived at Trinity determined to complete her bachelor’s degree in classics, which she did in 1987. During her career, Lintelmann served as a nurse at Vassar Brothers Hospital, Hartford Hospital, and Newington Children’s Hospital.

Lintelmann is survived by a son, daughter, and two grandsons. She was predeceased by her husband, Leslie W. Lintelmann, in 1981.

Laura Tyburski McWhorter, 1992

Laura Tyburski McWhorter, 43, of Bridgewater, New Jersey, died on November 22, 2013.

McWhorter graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Trinity with a degree in psychology. During her time at the college, McWhorter volunteered with Habitat for Humanity and at local soup kitchens. She also was a member of the Biology Club and an Upward Bound tutor. She went on to earn a master’s degree in public health from the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. She was a senior research scientist for Novartis Pharmaceuticals.

McWhorter is survived by her husband of 19 years, Bruce A. McWhorter, Jr.; parents Joseph and Carol Tyburski; brother Stephen Tyburski (Izbella); father-in-law Bruce A. McWhorter, Sr.; and mother-in-law Donna McWhorter.

Corey Alexis Lynch, 2002

Corey Alexis Lynch, 33, of Washington, D.C., died on April 16, 2013.

Lynch graduated with a degree in economics and political science. While at Trinity, he was a member of Imani, the Black Student Union; the Men of Color Alliance; and the Caribbean Students’ Association. Until his passing, Lynch worked as a probation counselor in Fairfax County, Virginia.

Lynch is survived by his mother, Terry Freeman Lynch; father Milton A. Lynch; brothers Shaun and Troy Lynch; grandparents Earlyn A. Cruse and Terence and Virginia Freeman; aunts Erna Lynch, Sandra Hart, Roslyn Frett, Joanne Christopher, Celeste Potter, and Debra David; uncles John Lynch, Wayne Freeman, Gregory Cruse, Sr., and nieces Caroline Birckhead and Emily Payne.

Conor Patric Gregory, 2010

Gregory was a member of Alpha Chi Rho and graduated with high honors with a degree in English. Following his graduation, Gregory and his girlfriend backpacked through Europe, an experience that gave him great perspective and appreciation for classic literature and poetry. When he returned, he settled on Nantucket, where he immersed himself in literature and the island’s rich whaling history while he prepared for law school.

In August of 2012, Gregory moved back to Seattle to attend Seattle University School of Law. He served as a staff member of the Seattle Journal of Social Justice. He also worked as a summer intern in the office of Washington’s Attorney General.

Gregory is survived by his father, Gene Gregory; his mother, Wendy Gregory; his brother, E.J. Gregory, the love of his life, Jillian Fraker; and his dog, Hana.

Carol Fleischer Boswell, M.A. 1959

Carol Fleischer Boswell, 89, of West Hartford, Connecticut, died on October 8, 2013.

A Hartford native, Berger was drafted into the U.S. Army at 19 years old, shortly after his graduation from Weaver High School. After his radio specialist training at Harvard, he served in the European theater for the duration of World War II. He received his B.A. from the University of Connecticut, his M.A. in English from Trinity, and his Ph.D from the University of Tennessee. He was a professor of English at the University of Connecticut until his retirement in 1986.

Berger’s book, Science Fiction and the New Dark Age, prophesizing the dark side of today’s pop culture, was published in 1976. He was an active liberal committed to social justice issues throughout his life.

Berger is survived by his wife of 60 years, Cheryl; his daughter, Jane Cristantiello (John); grandchildren Ross and Lucy Cristantiello; nieces Leslie Lindenauer and Thea Lloyd; and sister-in-law Jinx Lindenauer.
Grace L. Carbone, M.A. 1960
Grace L. Carbone, 86, of Gardner, Massachusetts, died on September 5, 2011.
In addition to her master’s degree from Trinity, Carbone earned a bachelor’s degree from Boston University and an advanced degree from the University of Connecticut. She began her teaching career at Cushing Academy in Ashburnham, Massachusetts, and then continued to Connecticut, where she chaired the Business Department at Rockville High School. She was a member of the Ladies of Columbus, the Vernon League of Women Voters, and the Gardner Women’s Club. She was also active in the Vernon Teachers Association and the Connecticut Teachers Association.
Carbone is survived by her sister, Doris Norskey (Alexander), four nieces, and seven great-nieces and great-nephews.

Charlotte P. Hickcox, M.A. 1965
Charlotte P Hickcox, 90, of Wallingford, Connecticut, died on October 5, 2012. A native of Watertown, Connecticut, Hickcox graduated from Middlebury College in 1944 with a B.A. in math. In 1950, she started working as the assistant to the secretary of the American Board of Anesthesiology in Hartford, a position she held for 30 years. She earned her M.A. in philosophy from Trinity.
Hickcox was a 50-year member of the First Church of Christ in Wethersfield, Connecticut, a member of the Wethersfield Republican Town Committee, and a former trustee of Middlebury College.
Hickcox is survived by her sister, Mary Hickcox Lecko, and many nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by five brothers: Howard Hickcox, Charles Hickcox, Curtis Hickcox, M.D., Arthur Hickcox, and Frank Bronson Hickcox, Jr., and a sister, Mabelle Hickcox Camp.

Margaret Merkley Withey, M.A. 1969
Margaret Merkley Withey, 84, of Canton, Connecticut, died on November 11, 2013. After graduating from Russell Sage College in Troy, New York, her first job was as the editor of the General Electric employee newspaper in Plainville, Connecticut, followed by a position with The Hartford Courant. After she was married and raised her three children, she earned her master’s degree in English from Trinity. She was a dedicated educator, teaching English and creative writing at Canton High School for more than 20 years. She retired in 1982 to help write a series of textbooks on grammar and composition.
Committed to higher education, Withey then attended the University of Connecticut School of Law. In 1990, she graduated with her J.D. and was admitted to the Connecticut Bar. She later worked for the Connecticut Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities. She also spent time working with Canton Benefit Productions, the University of Hartford Community Chorus, and the Canton Historical Society.
Withey is survived by her three children and their spouses: Bruce Withey (Steven Cohen), Jeffrey Withey (Mary Boss), and Ann Withey (Robert Miller), and her grandchildren: Benjamin Withey (Sarah Finney), Delia Withey, Molly Miller, Phoebe Miller, Jeremy Cohen, Aaron Cohen, and Elizabeth Cohen. She was predeceased by her husband, Lawrence Withey.

Joan Tilton Kenney, M.A. 1970
Joan Tilton Kenney, 86, of Bloomfield, Connecticut, died on December 13, 2013.
Kenney received her B.A. from Vassar College with a joint degree in English and economics. After college, she spent a year working in the botany lab at Oxford University. She received her master’s in English from Trinity. She taught junior high school in Cheshire, Connecticut, for three years and served as the Avon and Canton correspondent for The Hartford Courant and the Farmington Valley Herald.
She was also an adjunct faculty member in the English department at the University of Hartford.
Kenney was a founder of the Canton League of Women Voters and was recognized by the Wadsworth Atheneum as “docent emeritus” after 20 years of service.
Kenney is survived by her five daughters: Elizabeth Tilton Kenney and her former husband William Fisher, Ann Foster Kenney (John Elstad), Rebecca Jarvis Kenney (Lars Travers), Ellen van Riper Kenney (Al’addeen Shawa), and Catherine Taft Kenney (Michael Vargha). She leaves two grandchil-dren, two great-grandchildren, and nephew John Garrett Tilton (Alia) and family. She was predeceased by her brother, George Ogilvie Jarvis Tilton.

Jeremy Nicholas Welchman, M.A. 1971
Welchman earned his bachelor’s degree at Tufts and later added a master’s degree in classics from Trinity and a master’s in library science from the University of Rhode Island. In 1973, Welchman, born in England, became a naturalized U.S. citizen.
For 12 years, Welchman taught English and Latin at Windsor Mountain and Pomfret schools. He then spent 27 years as a university librarian at Eastern Connecticut State University.
During his retirement, Welchman served as a docent for the Lyman Allen Museum in New London, Connecticut; was a Big Brother; and was a docent for the Lyman Allen Museum and Wadsworth Atheneum as “docent emeritus” after 20 years of service.
Welchman is survived by his wife of 53 years, Linda (Van Demark) Welchman; children Jennifer Welchman Smith and Geoffrey Welchman; grandchildren Andrew and Ellen Smith and Rhys Welchman; and sisters Rosamund Welchman and Susanna Gribbins.

Betty Heller Rosania, M.A. 1972
Betty Heller Rosania, 82, of Wethersfield, Connecticut, died on January 17, 2014.
Rosania graduated from the University of Connecticut with a B.A. in political science. After serving as assistant to the town manager in Wethersfield, Connecticut, Rosania ran for Wethersfield’s town council in 1989 and was then chosen by her colleagues to be Wethersfield’s first-ever female Republican mayor. She also served as the director of personnel for the town of Manchester, Connecticut.
Rosania is survived by her brother, Charles Heller; her children, David (Pam), Chloe (Bruce Carlson), and John (Lisa); and 10 grandchildren: Paul, Amy, Peter, Daniel, James, and David Rosania, and Alexandra, Elizabeth, Andrew, and Sam Carlson. She was predeceased by her husband of 59 years, Edward.

Lynne O. Burfeind, M.A. 1982
Lynne O. Burfeind, 71, of Hartford, Connecticut, died on November 8, 2013.
Burfeind earned a bachelor’s degree in music education from West Virginia Wesleyan College and received her master’s in education at Trinity. She taught music in Southington, Connecticut, for three years before the birth of her children, when she shifted her focus to parenthood and volunteerism. She was active with the League of Women Voters, which she eventually served as president, and on the board of the Hartford Public Library and the Capitol Region Library Council. In the mid-1970s, she began a second career in the Education Department of the West Hartford Public Schools, from which she retired in 2001.
Burfeind is survived by sons Paul (Jodi) and Matthew (Jennifer); grandsons Harlen, Samuel, and Joshua; sister Leslie Olivier; and seven nieces and nephews and their families. She was predeceased by her husband, Alfred.

Nongraduates
William John Scott III, 1939
After one year at Trinity, Scott was appointed to the U.S. Naval Academy and later earned an M.B.A. from The George Washington University. Upon his graduation from the Academy in 1940, Scott reported to the U.S.S. Wasp, on which he served until shortly before it was sunk in 1942. In 1943, he arrived in Philadelphia for the pre-commissioning of the U.S.S. Monterey, where future President Gerald Ford served as officer of the deck.
During his military career, Scott served on several ships, at the Pentagon, and in Halifax, Nova Scotia. After his retirement from the Navy in 1962, Scott pursued a career as a communications engineer with ITT, CSC, and Raytheon.
Scott is survived by children Mary Monica Scott, Cecilia Anne Scott, and William John Scott; granddaughters Jennifer Morgan Mishkin and Michaela Lenore Mishkin; grandson Harrison Scott Mishkin; and several nieces and nephews. In addition to his wife, Thelma, Scott was predeceased by his brothers, Spen and Jim, and his sister, Phyllis.

Evans Kirkby, 1941
Evans Kirkby, 93, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, died on March 24, 2013.
Kirkby was a member of Delta Phi at Trinity. He went on to serve as an Air Force navigator in World War II. He spent 33 years as a reporter for the Milwaukee Journal.
Kirkby is survived by children Martha Bochta (Terry), Kent (DuAnne), Gerald, and
In Memory

Marguerite; grandchildren Steve (Dez), Alex, Mike (Alexandra), Dave (Amber), and Sean; seven nieces and nephews, and sister-in-law Marguerite Evans. He was predeceased by his wife, Mary Govin Kirkby.

Edwin G. Brainerd, 1942
Edwin G. Brainerd, 94, of Palm City, Florida, died on November 25, 2013.

After Trinity, where Brainerd was a member of Sigma Nu, he received his B.D. degree from Tufts University College of Dentistry. During World War II, he was a captain in the U.S. Army and was a dentist attached to "Merrill's Marauders" in Burma. Following his honorable discharge, Brainerd established a dental practice in Willimantic, Connecticut, and served his community for 42 years.

Brainerd is survived by his wife of 70 years, Marjorie; sons Dr. Edwin G. Brainerd, Jr. (Sally) and Jeffrey Brainerd; four grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren. He was predeceased by a son, Richard Brainerd.

Leslie Parker Mitchell, 1945

Mitchell was a veteran of World War II and the Korean War. Following his time at Trinity, he attended Yale University, where he earned bachelor’s and master’s degrees in engineering. He went on to a career at Eastman Kodak, where he was a project manager in research and engineering and in government systems until his 1986 retirement.

Documents declassified the year before his death showed the role that Kodak played in top-secret spy satellite programs during the Cold War. Mitchell was the project manager for the Gambit project and was said to be thrilled to finally tell his family about his service to his country. In 1985, he was honored with the CIA’s Space Pioneer award.

Mitchell is survived by daughters Dianne O’Neill (James), Laurie Garbarino (John), and Patrice Mitchell (Edward Doherty), grandchildren Miggs and Jamey O’Neill; sister-in-law Laura White, Edward Brown, Christopher Brown, Robert E. Eckert, and Geoffrey Eckert; great-grandson Brennan Michael White, and longtime friend Joan Zayac. He was predeceased by his wife of 49 years, Geane Martin Eckert.

HONORARY DOCTORATES

Wilson Wilde, Hon. 1992
Wilson Wilde, 86, of East Boothbay, Maine, died on November 25, 2013.

Wilde attended Williams College and Swarthmore College. He received an honorary doctor of humane letters degree from Trinity in 1992 and, in 1984, an honorary doctor of science degree from the University of Hartford. He was a veteran of the U.S. Navy, serving at the end of World War II and during the Korean War. Wilde was CEO of the Hartford Steam Boiler Group for 23 years. In 1990, Financial World magazine named him the insurance industry’s “CEO of the Decade.”

He devoted much of his life to community service initiatives and organizations, including serving as board chair of the Connecticut Historical Society, the Florence Griswold Museum, and the Old State House Association. He also served on the board of his alma mater, Loomis Chaffee School in Windsor, Connecticut.

Wilson Wilde is survived by his wife, Joan; children David, Elisabeth, and Richard; and grandchildren Tucker Wilde, Skyler Wilde, Eben Wilde, Kyle Johnson, Ryan Wilde, Tyler Wilde, and Christopher Johnson. He was predeceased by his eldest son, Stephen Wilde.

Bishop Thomas Lanier Hoyt, Jr., Hon. 1993
Bishop Thomas Lanier Hoyt, Jr., 72, of Washington, D.C., died on October 27, 2013.

Hoyt earned his bachelor’s degree from Lane College and advanced degrees from the Phillips School of Theology, Interdenominational Theology Center, Union Theological Seminary, and Duke University. He was awarded an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Trinity in 1993.

As a New Testament scholar, Hoyt served as a professor at the Interdenominational Theological Center, the Howard University School of Religion, and the Hartford Seminary, where he was also director of the Black Ministries Certificate Program. In addition to serving several CME churches in North Carolina and New York, Hoyt was president of the National Council of Churches. He was a lifetime member of the NAACP and a member of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity.

Hoyt is survived by his wife of 49 years, Ocie Harnett; children Doria and Thomas III; grandchild Ayanna; sister Evelena Rucker; brothers-in-law Courtland Van Oden and Aaron Favors; sister-in-law Emile Oden Corzo; aunt Ida Moore; special niece Annie Doris Hall; and special nephews Ned Hardin and Steven Hoyt.

Luis A. Ferré, Hon. 1999
Luis A. Ferré, 99, of San Juan, Puerto Rico, died on October 21, 2003.

Ferré earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He also studied at the New England Conservatory of Music. He received an honorary doctor of laws degree from Trinity.

The New York Times called Ferré “a dominant force in the politics, economy, and culture of Puerto Rico.” He was a dedicated proponent of Puerto Rican statehood and spent one term as the first woman to a governor’s cabinet. Ferré went on to serve as president of the Puerto Rico Senate from 1977 to 1980.

Ferré was predeceased by his wife, Toidy de Jesús; his son, Antonio; and his daughter, novelist Rosario Ferré. He was predeceased by his first wife, Lorencita Ramirez de Arelano.

DEATH NOTICES

Paul Cabitt Mezer, NG 1946
Francis Morgan Palmer, Jr., NG 1960
John Hardin Craig, NG 1971
Bradley Phillip Fields, B.A. 1974